Psalm 8

O LORD, our Lord, how majestic is your name in all the earth!

You have set your glory above the heavens.

From the lips of children and infants you have ordained praise because of your enemies, to silence the foe and the avenger.

When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place what is man that you are mindful of him, the son of man that you care for him? You made him a little lower than the heavenly beings and crowned him with glory and honour.

You made him ruler over the works of your hands;
you put everything under his feet:

⁷ all flocks and herds,
and the beasts of the field,

⁸ the birds of the air,
and the fish of the sea,
all that swim the paths of the seas.

⁹ O LORD, our Lord,
how majestic is your name in all the earth!

How would you define worship?

Was it some image of a church service with music and a service?

I wonder if our definition should be radically altered.

What if a baby smiling constituted worship?

What if laughing out loud at a joke constituted a worship?

What if patting your cat constituted worship?

What if walking your dog constituted worship?

What if listening to your grandparents stories constituted worship?

What if staring into a starry sky constituted worship?

What if holding hands constituted worship?

What if

Psalm 8 asks us to explore this question, as every creature of the universe has its own unique way of worshipping God. Of expressing praise to the Lord.
